DELIVERY MODE	TASK NO.	ASSESSMENT PRODUCT	INDIVIDUAL OR GROUP	WEIGHTING %	WHAT IS THE DURATION / LENGTH?	WHEN SHOULD I SUBMIT?	WHERE SHOULD I SUBMIT IT?
All	1	Oral and Written Piece	Individual and Group	20%	Discussion Group (10 mins presentation) and associated materials (600 words).	Week 6	Online Assignment Submission with plagiarism check
All	2	Oral and Written Piece	Group	40%	7 minutes + 250 word self-reflection.	Week 9	Online Submission
All	3	Essay	Individual	40%	1,000 words	Week 13	Online Assignment Submission with plagiarism check

All - Assessment Task 1: Discussion Group

GOAL:	Discussion Group
	Oral Presentation. Groups of 3-4 students will present a brief summary of the week's learning materials and provoke class discussion through the presentation of related materials and questions. Assessed on ONE in-class presentation allocated between Week 2-6. Reference list/accompanying materials submitted online.
PRODUCT:	Oral and Written Piece
FORMAT:	Oral presentation / academic writing
CRITERIA:	No.	Learning Outcome assessed
	1 Accuracy and Depth of Engagement with Course Material	2
	2 Oral and written communication	4
	3 Application of knowledge to timely and relevant examples	2 3
	4 Evidence of appropriate research	3

All - Assessment Task 2: Oral presentation

GOAL:	The goal of this task is to present a critical take on a 20th Century communication theory, by discussing an application of the theory in 21st Century contexts. The presentation should occur in a paired or panel interview style in which participants will interrogate concepts for their relevance and application to communication in current contexts. Students will also submit a short written statement reflecting on their individual skills and qualities in the preparation and execution of this task.
PRODUCT:	Oral and Written Piece
FORMAT:	Academic Format In seven minutes, each group will introduce ONE theoretical concept and critique it with reference to literature and relevant examples. Groups of 2-3 may choose variations on presentation style to accommodate the pair or panel interview format. For example, groups may choose to interact as communication students, or as a mock television or radio interview (e.g. ABC's Q&A) with students embodying certain roles. The tone of the presentation should remain academic, with rationalized arguments throughout. This task provides the opportunity to work on verbal and non-verbal communication skills. The goal is not to arrive at a conclusion that a theory is right or wrong, but to produce a stimulating and engaging discussion. Presentations will be delivered and assessed in tutorials for on-campus students. Online students will negotiate submission requirements with the coordinator. Students must submit their self-reflection and a reference list of at least 6 scholarly sources and 2 media or non-scholarly sources supporting your presentation online. All group members must contribute equally in preparation, contribution and speaking time. Completion of self- and peer-evaluation of group work contribution is required for this task.
CRITERIA:	No.	Learning Outcome assessed
	1 Demonstrate understanding and critical reflection on communication theory	2
	2 Interpret and apply appropriate supporting evidence	2 3
	3 Model effective verbal and non-verbal communication (including visual aids and adherence to time limits)	4
	4 Produce a correctly formatted reference list of relevant and credible sources	2 3 4
	5 Reflect critically on individual skills and qualities	1

All - Assessment Task 3: Written Essay

GOAL:	In this task students will demonstrate an understanding of and ability to apply a relevant theoretical approach in the analysis of mediated communication. Students will draw on content from across the course to support their analysis which will show how and/or why the selected piece of communication is significant, and how and/or why it has made an impact on society in the 21st Century.
PRODUCT:	Essay
FORMAT:	Academic Format In 1000 words, students will construct an essay outlining a deep and critical analysis of a piece of mediated communication. Mediated communication includes a range of media texts, such as television, print and online news media, advertisements, film, radio, etc. The analysis will be focused by the selection of one core theory through which the chosen media object will be analysed. Essays should include a reference list and references within the text to support arguments of a minimum 8 scholarly sources and 2 media/non-academic sources.
CRITERIA:	<table border="1"><thead><tr><th>No.</th><th></th><th>Learning Outcome assessed</th></tr></thead><tbody><tr><td>1</td><td>Apply chosen theory and supporting arguments to produce a critical analysis</td><td>2</td></tr><tr><td>2</td><td>Synthesise and evaluate ideas to produce a convincing piece of written communication</td><td>2 3</td></tr><tr><td>3</td><td>Apply principles of academic writing, including essay form, academic language, grammar, spelling, and punctuation</td><td>4</td></tr><tr><td>4</td><td>Produce correctly formatted reference list (APA or Harvard) evidencing relevance and credibility of supporting sources</td><td>3</td></tr></tbody></table>	No.		Learning Outcome assessed	1	Apply chosen theory and supporting arguments to produce a critical analysis	2	2	Synthesise and evaluate ideas to produce a convincing piece of written communication	2 3	3	Apply principles of academic writing, including essay form, academic language, grammar, spelling, and punctuation	4	4	Produce correctly formatted reference list (APA or Harvard) evidencing relevance and credibility of supporting sources	3

7. Directed study hours

A 12-unit course will have total of 150 learning hours which will include directed study hours (including online if required), self-directed learning and completion of assessable tasks. Directed study hours may vary by location. Student workload is calculated at 12.5 learning hours per one unit.

8. What resources do I need to undertake this course?

Please note: Course information, including specific information of recommended readings, learning activities, resources, weekly readings, etc. are available on the course Canvas site– Please log in as soon as possible.

8.1. Prescribed text(s) or course reader

There are no required/recommended resources for this course.

8.2. Specific requirements

Students must have access to a computer and the internet to undertake this course.

9. How are risks managed in this course?

Health and safety risks for this course have been assessed as low. It is your responsibility to review course material, search online, discuss with lecturers and peers and understand the health and safety risks associated with your specific course of study and to familiarise yourself with the University's general health and safety principles by reviewing the online induction training for students, and following the instructions of the University staff.

10. What administrative information is relevant to this course?

10.1. Assessment: Academic Integrity

Academic integrity is the ethical standard of university participation. It ensures that students graduate as a result of proving they are competent in their discipline. This is integral in maintaining the value of academic qualifications. Each industry has expectations and standards of the skills and knowledge within that discipline and these are reflected in assessment.

Academic integrity means that you do not engage in any activity that is considered to be academic fraud; including plagiarism, collusion or outsourcing any part of any assessment item to any other person. You are expected to be honest and ethical by completing all work yourself and indicating in your work which ideas and information were developed by you and which were taken from others. You cannot provide your assessment work to others. You are also expected to provide evidence of wide and critical reading, usually by using appropriate academic references.

In order to minimise incidents of academic fraud, this course may require that some of its assessment tasks, when submitted to Canvas, are electronically checked through Turnitin. This software allows for text comparisons to be made between your submitted assessment item and all other work to which Turnitin has access.

10.2. Assessment: Additional Requirements

Your eligibility for supplementary assessment in a course is dependent of the following conditions applying:

The final mark is in the percentage range 47% to 49.4%

The course is graded using the Standard Grading scale

You have not failed an assessment task in the course due to academic misconduct

10.3. Assessment: Submission penalties

Late submission of assessment tasks may be penalised at the following maximum rate:

- 5% (of the assessment task's identified value) per day for the first two days from the date identified as the due date for the assessment task.

- 10% (of the assessment task's identified value) for the third day - 20% (of the assessment task's identified value) for the fourth day and subsequent days up to and including seven days from the date identified as the due date for the assessment task.

- A result of zero is awarded for an assessment task submitted after seven days from the date identified as the due date for the assessment task. Weekdays and weekends are included in the calculation of days late. To request an extension you must contact your course coordinator to negotiate an outcome.
