Bachelor of Communication (Social Media)

Digital technology has evolved rapidly over the past 10 years, creating more opportunities to work with social media. This program will prepare you as a social media specialist by teaching you how to work with real clients to develop and implement social media strategies, and analyse their success. You'll have opportunities to gain industry-recognised certifications and travel overseas on study tours.

In this program you will:

- Develop the skills for content curation and creation across platforms.
- Learn how to tell compelling brand stories across both social and traditional channels.
- Gain a thorough grounding in communication, public relations, creative advertising, and marketing.
- Work with real clients to gain practical experience and build a portfolio of work to showcase to future employers.

Career opportunities:

- Social Media Manager
- Digital Marketing Manager
- Online Community Manager
- Content Creation Executive
- Digital Strategist
