Bachelor of Creative Industries

Creative Industries is one of the fastest growing, most dynamic and diverse employment sectors. This program allows you to tailor your studies to suit your interests and talents, providing you with a range of skills and employment choices in the expanding creative industries sector and beyond.

Upon completion, you'll have strong creative and technical skills, an entrepreneurial mindset, and a professional portfolio that showcases your diverse talents.

In this program you will:

- Develop specialist creative and technical skills in design, media, arts, and communication as well as entrepreneurial nous.
- Choose from and combine a wide range of study areas, including theatre and performance, creative writing and publishing, screen media, music, fashion studies, creative advertising, social media, game design, public relations, and graphic design.
- Gain practical experience and develop your network of professional contacts.
- Undertake industry and research projects that will help you refine and showcase your knowledge and skills in the creative industries.

Choose to study abroad at one of USC's 70+ partner institutions worldwide through our Study Overseas program.
